

SKA Pesach List for 5780-2020

The following guide has been reviewed by Dayan Yossi David, Rosh Va'ad Hakashrut for the Sephardi Kashrut Authority. In the first instance, one should endeavour to buy products which are certified Kosher for Pesach. This guide refers to generic products; for enquiries about specific products, email ska@kashrut.uk or phone 02074817840. The leniencies enumerated below do not supersede the rulings of your own rabbi, nor your established family custom.

- 1. Fruits and Vegetables. All raw, whole, fresh fruits and vegetables are permitted. Frozen fruits and vegetables must be bought with supervision.<sup>1</sup> Likewise, ready prepared cut up fruits and vegetables as well as dried fruits must come with supervision.
- 2. Eggs. Raw eggs in their shells are permitted. This includes the eggs of all kosher birds.
- 3. Meat. Unopened packs of unprocessed kosher meat with no added ingredients are permitted with regular year-round certification. E.g. drumsticks or wings, but NOT ground beef or salami.
- 4. Milk. The established custom of UK Jewry is to purchase milk that is certified for Pesach. In a place where such milk is unavailable, regular milk with no added ingredients (e.g. vitamins) may be purchased before Pesach only. This leniency would only apply to those who consume uncertified milk during the year.
- 5. Fish. Where one does not have access to a fishmonger who is certified for Pesach, one may buy kosher species of fish with the skin still showing, in order to check for scales.<sup>2</sup>
- 6. Water. All unflavoured bottled still and naturally carbonated water is approved for Pesach.
- 7. Tea and coffee. Plain black tea (not decaf) and plain coffee (not decaf) are permitted, where no alternative is available.<sup>3</sup>
- 8. Nuts, seeds and pulses. All raw, whole nuts, seeds and pulses are permitted in cases where one cannot obtain them certified. Any added ingredients would mean the product is not covered by this ruling and it would need to be purchased with certification for Pesach. Below is a list which shows which nuts, seeds and pulses are kitniyot. Where there is a difference of opinion, those items are indicated in the middle column. All grain-like kitniyot must be sieved thoroughly before Pesach.

<sup>2</sup> One may wish to wash the fish before use, but care should be taken to do so in a safe way to avoid the spread of bacteria.

<sup>3</sup> The SKA has certified the full range of coffees from Coffee Story for Pesach. Visit coffeestory.uk/Pesach to order direct.

- 9. Disposables. Due to the starch content of paperware, it is advisable to use brands that are approved. Foil, plastic and polystyrene do not present a problem on Pesach.
- 10. Medicine. Ideally, all syrups and tablets with any coating for pleasant taste must be Chametz-free on Pesach. One should not deviate from prescribed medicine without consulting one's healthcare professional and rabbi.
- 11. Cosmetics. Whilst most cosmetics are inedible, lipstick would need to be free of Chametz. Some are strict about all wheat, oat and barley-based cosmetics.
- 12. Bathroom products. Whilst some are strict about the absorption of soaps and creams into the body, the SKA permits all forms of soap, shampoo and conditioner for Pesach. Likewise, deodorant, hand sanitizer, hair gel, hair spray, hair mousse, hair treatment, body lotion, skin cream, sunscreen and talcum powder are all permitted. Toothpaste, floss and mouthwash need to be purchased with certification for Pesach.
- 13. Kitchen products. Detergents, wipes and washing up liquid do not require certification for Pesach.
